DEDJASMASH MASHASHA.

The picturesque individual with the above unpronounceable name is the head of an embassy which the Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia has sent to Germany in order to give expression to the friendship he entertains for the Emperor William. His visit is in answer to one paid to the country of the Abyssinian monarch some years ago by a special German mission under Dr. Rosen, the present German minister to Morocco. The members of this mission carried presents to Menelik, among them a lion and a hippopotamus. Dedjasmash Mashasha has in his own country the rank of colonel and the dignity of a duke and has been intrusted with diplomatic missions on several occasions.

UNITED AFTER MANY YEARS

Sunday morning two old men were seen on the outgoing Tombstone train bound for the Caliente Springs, says the Tombstone Prospector.

Around the two passengers is encircled a bit of interesting history and romance that is stranger than fiction and furnishes an example of genuine rugged friendship that shines resplendent above the everyday, commonplace struggle and grind of a commercial world, which too often begets a selfishness that gives little heed to the cares of a less fortunate brother.

For eight years Joseph Sheehan has been a patient in the Cochise county hospital. He has been rendered an invalid by muscular rheumatism, and during all the years has borne his excruciating suffering with fortitude and remarkable endurance. He is an interesting personage, and many good stories of exciting early-day Arizona experiences are told by his fellow inmates, for Sheehan was a typical prospector upon whom the Goddess of Fortune had smiled, and likewise he experienced the bitter vicissitudes of frontier life, being finally obliged to accept the hospitalities of a public institution that cares for the "trail blazers."

There arrived in Tombstone a few days since D. W. O'Carroll, who straightaway went to the hospital and was admitted to see Sheehan. The meeting brought about tears of joy to each. It was a reunion of two prospecting partners who had lost each other for over ten years, each thinking of the other. O'Carroll had just sold a group of mines in Pinal county for $40,000 cash, and had accidentally learned of the whereabouts of his old partner and his circumstances.

The result of the visit is briefly told. Sheehan was taken from the hospital and carried to the hot springs for treatment with the hope that waters will effect a cure if money and care can accomplish it. The patient of eighty years was outfitted with clothes and a liberal supply of gold and the two partners of years ago are happy in the thought of each other's friendship.

GOATS SLEEP IN CHURCH

Forty of Them Invade Edifice to Which
Mrs. Sage Gave $10,000

LAWRENCE, L. I., October 17.—Rev. John J. Foust, pastor of the Lawrence Methodist Episcopal church, is willing to welcome to his church at any time, even into the new $20,000 addition, Franklin B. Lord, owner of the Meadow Edge farm in Cedarhurst, near here, but he does not welcome into the new addition the flock of Angora goats which Mr. Lord recently bought to eat the weeds on his place.

The goats, nevertheless, show a liking for the new addition, to which Mrs. Russell Sage gave $10,000, her first contribution after the death of her husband.

Early one morning this week Mr. Foust, whose parsonage is across the way from the church, was awakened by a noise that seemed to come from the church. He found inside the addition Mr. Lord's entire flock of goats, which had gone in through a door carelessly left open. There were forty in this congregation, and all except one of them were asleep.

New Use for Electricity

At the royal botanical gardens, London, experiments are now in progress in the use of electricity as a substitute for the sun as an agency in the growth of certain plants. These experiments will continue for a year and a half or longer. Among the plants which are now being subjected to electrical treatment are tomatoes and fuchsias. The house which contains this interesting plant is fitted with a traveling lamp, violet rays being used. The electrical apparatus installed can be made to do the same as sunlight—such, at least, is the result anticipated from the experiments. At night the leaves of the sensitive "mimosa pudica" drop over, but when the lamp is applied for about half an hour the effect upon the plant is the same as if it were in the sunshine.—Chicago News.
